Message from our Chairman cum Chief Managing Trustee

Dear Trustees & Well-wishers

It is always a pleasure to write a report when there is good news to convey. Savita Sharma and whole RSUP's family are doing such a great job for the poor, needy and marginalized individuals, groups or societies that reporting their achievements becomes a real joy. Rashtriya Samajik Utthan Parishad (RSUP) over the last 06 years has established itself as an organization committed towards welfare and empowerment of civil society. The organization has worked with various other organizations and individuals to create a platform and an understanding towards marginalized, needy and voiceless people. Taking impetus from its previous work organization this year articulated and highlighted issues of girl education, sustainable rural livelihoods and high-cost healthcare at the state and national level as well. Working with locals ensure opportunities of education, healthcare, nutrition, environment protection, women empowerment, livelihoods, social welfare and social awareness. It was thus necessary to work with different stake holders. Our grass-roots approach to change allows us to know the people, the problems, and the potential of each community we serve. Wherever we go, we act and feel like a local non-governmental organisation. Our staffs live within the community and learn all the hopes and challenges each community faces specially in Covid-19 period.

Interns and volunteers have been an important resource at RSUP bringing energy, enthusiasm and hard work to the organization. They have added to the empanelment of service providers and written articles which are published for the broader public to read.

I would like to express my gratitude to the Board whose skilled guidance has helped RSUP come so far. I would also like to acknowledge the hard work put in by the staff as well as the support of countless caregivers, service providers and funders.

What We Do

Under the segment SD, RSUP runs and manages various programmes like Social Awareness, Religious and Spiritual Activities, Woman, Child and youth development, Natural Calamity relief and management, social entrepreneurship and livelihood, Social Welfare initiatives etc. that impact individual, community and society in general. RSUP also works on Micro Credit Issues and mobilizing the communities' members (SHG) towards marketing and development of micro enterprise units and business development agenda. When women earn, their income supports the whole family and saves for the future. Women in entrepreneurship is therefore an important factor in lifting households, more so the children from hunger and thus improve on their school attendance shaping their future. Poor women in rural settings do not benefit from loans given out by financial institutions because of lack of collaterals. Village/Group Savings and Loaning can offer a solution to enhance business start-ups to support families.

With over 50% of Bihar population identified as “multidimensionally poor”. Bihar has the maximum percentage of population living in poverty among all the States and the Union Territories, according to Government think-tank NITI Aayog’s Multidimensional Poverty Index (MPI).

Education and Training

Education is a fundamental right, but given the sheer pressure on the public education system and the inability to afford expensive private education results in a huge number of children who drop out of education at an early stage. RSUP Trust understands the need and value of rural and semi urban education and sustainable livelihood-oriented training that make the society more informed and empowered.

So, in this segment, RSUP conducts various skill development programs and also runs low cost /free community learning centres/schools in remote rural areas of Bihar, India.

Vocational centres of the organization run sustainable livelihood training programmes in Computers, Beauty Care, Tailoring, Home Care Products making, Body Care Products making and many more for urban, semi urban and rural youths and women.

Healthcare and WaSH

Good and cost-effective healthcare and WaSH services are very big issues for rural and semi urban areas of India specially of Bihar. The underprivileged and poor societies, groups and individuals do not have proper access and awareness towards such healthcare and WaSH so RSUP India Trust works with other groups, foundations and organisations to identify communities or individuals who need help and organise assistance and awareness programs often involving trained medical professionals and community workers.

RSUPT also works on the WaSH (Water, Sanitation and Hygiene) initiative that has been taken by various countries in order to provide safe drinking water, proper sanitation facilities and a hygienic environment and livelihood to its people. This is a World Health Organisation (WHO) initiative considering the health and hygiene of people across the world.

Despite COVID-19 putting the spotlight on the importance of hand hygiene to prevent the spread of disease, three billion people worldwide, including hundreds of millions of school-going children, do not have access to handwashing facilities with soap. People living in rural areas, urban slums, disaster-prone areas and low-income countries are the most vulnerable and the most affected.

The consequences of unsafe water, sanitation, and hygiene (WASH) on children can be deadly. Over 700 children under age 5 die every day of diarrhoeal diseases due to lack of appropriate WASH services. In areas of conflict, children are nearly 20 times more likely to die from diarrhoeal disease than from the conflict itself.

National Family Health Survey 2015-2016 (India) estimates that of the 336 million menstruating women in India about 121 million (roughly 36 percent) women are using sanitary napkins, locally or commercially produced.

PROGRAMMS & IMPACT

While more than 60% of India's population is directly dependent on agriculture, its contribution to the country's GDP is only 20%, indicating overdependence, unemployment and underemployment in the sector. With more than half the country's populations' direct dependence on this sector, we believe that there is a need to bring paradigm shift towards agriculture and its numerous tangible and intangible benefits.

RSUP'S farm activities include dairy, goat rearing, fishing and poultry. Dairy is introduced to develop an ecosystem around dairy farming and promote dairy as a sustainable livelihood option, which creates a steady revenue stream throughout the year for households.

RSUPT in association with other Govt. Organizations and private firms conducted/ conducts farmer training program on various needs. For the good agriculture outputs, organization conducts soil and water testing programs that includes farmers training camps too.

Today the environment remains a big issue for the whole world. The speed at which trees are being cut and ground water is being used is a dangerous sign. RSUP Trust took these environmental issues seriously and started plantation and environment protection social awareness program in Arwal, Jehanabad and Gaya districts of Bihar.

Bihar is one of the strongest agricultural states in the country. The percentage of population employed in agricultural production in Bihar is around 80%, which is much higher than the national average. It is the fourth largest producer of vegetables and the eight largest producers of fruits in India.

Still the cultivators of Bihar are in more stress and it is declining by 13% decade after decade. On the other hand, the number of agricultural and other laborers is increasing.
